Please, please vote to retain the current ownership rules. Although there may be exceptions to total homogenization in programming following a ruling that would relax restrictions these would be just that--exceptional. The uniformity experienced already over the various waves is tragic enough.